New sales team appointments at The Tristel Company

The Tristel Company (Newmarket, UK), developers of one of the most widely used cold sterilants in UK hospitals, has appointed Sally Hamer and Lesley Murray to the sales team. Sally will be responsible for customers in the North of England and North Wales, while Lesley will cover Scotland.

These new additions to the team reflect the rapid growth in demand for Tristel sterilants. Since the withdrawal of certain aldehyde-based disinfectants due to health and environmental concerns, hospitals have sought alternative decontamination products. The Tristel Company, formed in Cambridgeshire in 1998, has patented a chlorine dioxide chemistry used for the sterilisation of medical, dental and veterinary instruments. Tristel products have emerged as the leading replacements for aldehyde-based disinfectants.

Sally Hamer brings substantial medical experience to the team having worked as a nurse since 1996. Her most recent post was Deputy Manager/Sister for the National Blood Service and she has previously worked in a wide variety of fields including neurology and intensive care. Sally combines this practical medical experience with considerable professional qualifications and is currently undertaking a degree in health studies through the Open University.

Lesley Murray joins Tristel following her recent graduation from Dundee University with a B Ed (Hons) in primary education. As well as successfully completing her degree, Lesley has considerable experience in sales and financial roles.
